

Matthew Henry was appointed Superintendent of Schools by the Gallatin County Commission in October 2017. In 2018, Matthew was elected to a four-year term. Mr. Henry is a small business owner and longtime educator in Gallatin and Park counties, having served as a teacher, principal, and private school administrator. His first teaching position was at a one-room school south of Malta, Montana. Mr. Henry holds a bachelor's degree in elementary education from Ohio Wesleyan University and a master's degree in educational administration from Ohio State University. Matt and his wife Susan have three daughters, who they have homeschooled since 2012.